French Government Is Distressed at Unpleasantness of Situation

Special Bulletin Cable—Copyright
PARIS, Dec. 10.—Three valises believed by the police to contain documents confirming Marthe Moreau's confession that she and three Britishers were spies for England in France have been seized in the radio store where the men worked. Some other papers were also seized, among them a list of French air officers.

Examiners Books
The three valises, two belonging to Marthe and one to William Fisher who the girl says was her lover, and which will be opened only in the presence of the owners. Magistrates examined the books of the Wireless Company, which according to the confession James Leavelle, one of the captured men, received only an average of $12 a month as compensation for his services. Never before has he lived in an expensive flat in a fashionable quarter. Mr. Moreau's mail which she had addressed to an English bank in Paris has been seized. The government is distressed at the unpleasantness such an affair is bound to create in both France and England, but certain papers held that the whole business is investigated to the bottom to master what the enemy may be made of who may be implicated.

JURY DOES NOT ATTACH BLAME TO ANY PERSON

Deliberates Thirty-Five Minutes Before Rendering Its Verdict

CARTRIDGE EXPERT APPEARS ON STAND

Says It Is Possible for Bullet to Split, Making Two Holes

An open verdict was returned at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Margaret Jane Paton who died as the result of a shooting affair in the McLaughlin garage on 104 street in the early hours of Sunday morning.

The jury deliberated thirty-five minutes before presenting the following statement to Coroner A. A. Trautman:

We find, That Margaret Paton died on or about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, December 7, at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton from a wound caused by a bullet discharged from a 30-30 Winchester rifle in the hands of Joseph Paton, in the McLaughlin garage, 104 street, between the hours of 1 and 2 a.m. on the same day.

A. R. Turvey of the Dominion Cartridge company gave expert evidence regarding two bullet holes in the holding door of the garage, which were exhibited at the inquiry. Mr. Turvey contended that it was quite possible for one bullet to split and make two holes. Had the bullet going straight through the door and the other half making a second hole in the door and then glancing outwards without going through.

Course of Bullet
Mr. Turvey stated that it was possible for the bullet to be fired from the door of the garage and to go straight through the door and the other half making a second hole in the door and then glancing outwards without going through.

Joseph Paton, who is held by the police in a charge of murder, was called to the jury, giving the accused the opportunity of cross-examination. The jury returned a verdict of "Not Guilty" after a deliberation of thirty-five minutes.

While Turvey said the bullet in the door last night was a 30-30 Winchester, he also pointed out the fact that it would not be taken into the garage before the hearing of the case following the accident.

Guards' Crepe-Draped Colors; English Queen of French Typists

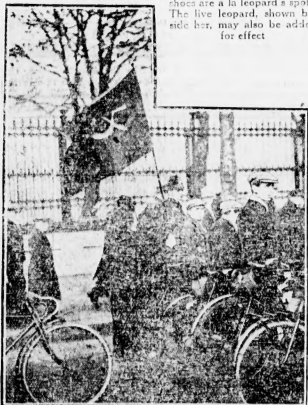

Lola Todd, film star, wearing an extremely bizarre ensemble of leopard skin coat, trimmed with fur. The stockings and shoes are a leopard's spots. The live leopard, shown beside her, may also be added for effect.

Striking photograph showing the colors of the Grenadier Guards draped with mourning crepe at St. James' Palace, London, in memory of the beloved Queen Mother, Alexandra.

ABOVE—Miss Eleanor Mitchell, English typist, who, before an international jury, won the French title by pounding out copy at the rate of 819 letters a minute on a typewriter of French manufacture. The contest was held by the French Commercial Organization.

Despite Communist trials and government activity, the Red Flag is still to be seen in London. The photograph of the above recent demonstration shows a woman carrying the banner.

Joanne Garden, Canadian-born star of the Metropolitan Opera, takes up the old hobby of collecting porcelain china banks. She claims her collection is absolutely priceless.

Emil Sauer, the new United States consul at Toronto. He was formerly stationed at Sherbrooke, Que.

LEFT—Miss Denise Cam, beautiful star of a new opera at the Gaite-Lyrique, Paris, who, it is said, bears a striking resemblance to Colette Talmadge, the screen actress.

"A hair-raising" piece of action from the recent rugby match between the La Hove teams from France and Esher at the Esher Bridge grounds. A French player is shown getting away with the ball.

Irene Rich, screen actress, recently in Canada, who has returned from a short vacation in Europe. She expresses sympathy for her former husband's marital difficulties, but says she isn't jealous.

Coaches Glenn Warner of Stanford University, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, and Ted Jones of Yale, who will represent the west, midwest and east respectively, in selecting the all-American football team. They are shown in New York.

BREAKER OF BONDS
BY MARK ALBERTON

A story of married life and strife, of England's nobility and the quiet glances of Love and Romance sacrificed on the altar of duty and Gold.
A story of modern English life, with an up-to-date plot. Exciting, Thrilling, Entertaining.

BEHOLD HERE TODAY
The story begins to unfold in the quiet of a London drawing room. A young man, James, is looking at a portrait of a woman, his mother. He is thinking of the life she led, of the sacrifices she made for him. He is feeling a great deal of sympathy for her.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER I
James was not a very happy man. He was a young man of about twenty-five, with a fair complexion and dark hair. He was a member of the aristocracy, and he was used to a life of ease and luxury. But now he was feeling a great deal of sympathy for his mother.
